“ I met Rick about twenty years ago, not through medicine, but through music. He came highly recommended as a great drummer AND a great chiropractor. Both recommendations were spot on!. I have sent friends to him for years who are no longer on pain meds because of Dr Huskey and I will continue to give him high praises, both as a Dr, and as a musician.”

TALKIN' TRASH

Not often do we find someone as excited about joining our Oklahoma biker community as Greg Wolter. While visiting with Greg about advertising his business, Community Builders in Oklahoma Biker the Riders Ragazine, he asked if I knew where a nice bike was for sale. Hello! Of course I did! I told him about Brian Bosworth's (Yes, the BOZ) Screamin' Eagle being for sale. I hooked the two of them up and Greg bought the bike sight unseen.

Here is the bad part about the exchange. Greg is new to our community and didn't have an M endorsement. I volunteered the use of Cheryl's Slingshot for him to take his driving test. Not only did he pass the test he loved driving the Slingshot. Now Greg has a motorcycle he purchased from the Boz, and a Slingshot he purchased from Cheryl. Talk about jumping in with both feet!

When the day came for Boz to deliver the Harley, Richard King of King's Customs brought it to Greg in one of his trailers. Apparently Boz has already struck a deal with Richard to build him a new motorcycle. If you haven't seen the creations of King's Customs, you should check out their website at www.kingscustomsok.com. Hopefully we will be able to feature Boz's new motorcycle in an upcoming issue.

Stories like this one is what makes publishing Oklahoma Biker exciting. I love meeting folks who enjoy having their knees in the breeze and bugs in their teeth. For those of you who have been riding for a while you know what a loving diverse group of people make up our Oklahoma biker community. Thank you for allowing Cheryl and I to be a part of this wonderful brotherhood and sisterhood. Hope to see you soon in the wind! Until next time watch out for the cages.

Osage Hills State Park Ride

On August 12-13, Ride Oklahoma Charities Association hosted their 2nd Annual State Park Fun Run. Each year, we pick a State Park in Oklahoma for a weekend fun run for anyone who wants to attend and children are welcome as well. We plan a nice long 4-5 hour ride on the scenic routes on little known highways and byways, a few stops to see fun things on the way for an all-around fun time. This year, we ascended upon Osage Hills State Park located just outside of Pawhuska, OK. The ride consisted of a few stops including Frank "Pistol Pete" Eaton's Home in Perkins, rich with memorabilia and history. The route took us through a few beautiful small towns and the scenery on the ride was nothing short of breath taking. The final stop was Osage Hills State Park and what a beautiful scenic place it was. The hospitality from the Park Office and Park Rangers was A+. Accommodations were A+ in the cabin area we stayed. We had good attendance with a great group of people and a blast was had by all! ROC provided all the food and facilitates the entire Fun Run. Ride Oklahoma Charities (a 501c3 with the State of Oklahoma) also facilitates many charity Poker Runs through the year. It is our goal to raise money through fund raising events to better our communities and those that live in it. We have a Fun Run to show our appreciation for all the hard work put in all year by Board Members and the most wonderful Volunteers any organization can ask for. Attendees paid a small donation for food and the overnight stay. And the fun begins!

Sparks America

is ready to Rock your Halloween

Anyone who has been to Sparks will tell you that every event is a great time, and they take your party seriously. Halloween is no different; they've got all sorts of awesomeness to make for a great get-away before the cold months kick in.

Let's start with the music. Jen worked tirelessly for this year's Bash and the final line-up is Kwick Sand, Blind Date, Trench Monkey, New Dynasty and Red Sawyer. All of these bands are ready to rock the rafters for three nights of music in a place where the neighbors won't be calling the cops to have you turn the volume down. And it's a great time to let your disco dancing alter ego get out there for all to see (gotcha! We were just seeing if you were paying attention).

Of course, no bash at Sparks would be complete without bike and people games, along with a bike show, but Halloween is the crowning of the 2017 Miss Sparks America. And YOU get to be part of the judging! Beautiful women, great live music and your favorite people sending 2016 out in style with a party and games should do it, right? Wrong. There's more, LOTS more. (This is JEN we're talkin' about! AKA Energizer Woman)

Looking to line your pockets with some green (CASH, not boogers or slime)? Then show up looking really sexy, scary, cute or weird (hint: dressing up like a biker probably won't win you anything) and it could be your lucky weekend. That means COSTUMES people, not what you wear to go play pool on a Thursday night, so if you are serious about your green (CASH, NOT boogers), the time to start your costume planning is NOW. Idea: wear all pink and wear a shoe on your head and go as gum stuck to a shoe. You're welcome.

Sparks will be Halloweening Oct. 20-23 and it's the big time, so reserve your spot early. There are very few cabins available and RV and tent sites are filling fast, so get busy planning to be there. Admission is $40 per person for the weekend. See their ad or Website for lodging info, but $40 for three days is like stealing a good time and missing one day of any Sparks' Biker Bash is like losing a body part; you'll survive, but you're not quite the same and you know you are missing something critical. Check out www.sparksamericacampgrounds.com for info or call Energizer Jen at Sparks, (918) 866-2543 with specific questions.

A few rules at Sparks: you MUST be 21 (the keg awaits legal age drinkers at the gate), please leave all glass bottles/containers at home (too much danger for barefooted visitors) and don't call Sparks 'SAC'.

Jen would like to give a special shout out 'Thank you' to the 2016 Miss Sparks America, Breezy Morrison.

No Child Deserves to Live in Fear

Quietly Changing the World, One Miracle at a Time

I'm going to start with an apology to the people I interviewed from RU4C (Riders United for Children). I promised them one story and they got another. As I started this story, seeing a little boy covered in dirt and blood, sitting in an ambulance, I knew giving you stats of children and families in crisis is never going to have the kind of impact a single image will.

I met a few RU4C members and their President, Noony, who has 'never met a stranger,' but ask him to talk about him, and its crickets. Usually, getting an organization to STOP talking about themselves is a problem, I have never experienced the opposite. Ask Noony or his band about the people they've helped and he'll tell you how lucky HE is to have met THEM, or ask about his little girl and he's chatting like he mainlines Starbucks. They gave me a few quotes and I could get the rest from RU4C's Facebook page.

That's when things got interesting.

I was about to walk away when a guy walked up and said he was looking for a group to ride with. That's where Preacher

Noony was born. "Now brother, you gotta understand, we ain't no MC. We are recognized by the CoC and we got our 501c3, but if you ain't willin' to work hard for nothin', we ain't your club. We work hard most days, but we'll always have your back and we'll be workin' right alongside you. We are a family and you are welcome if you can handle that. We don't do this for attention, okay? Walking away after you slipped a check under the door is really hard, but that's the way it has to be."

It was as if a wave of change came over everyone. He was the preacher telling his congregation they were going to a day at the spa. RU4C is happy to take your donation, but they show up at rallies, concerts and events to pick up trash, park cars or do odd jobs to raise funds, all with a smile. I had no idea that people did that! Every penny RU4C makes goes to helping those in need, and they give of themselves, working in summer heat, winter cold, doing hard labor, dirty jobs and more to help their Okie brothers and sisters.

What started in Arkansas as seven guys wanting to help their fellow man has grown over three states, but the OK chapter had only two members when Noony and his band of brothers and sisters found them in 2014; today, RU4C-OK now has about 50 people. In the past year, they have helped 27 families, donated money to three organizations and they gave gifts to countless kids at Christmas last year; each child gets a new coat, gloves and a special something they wanted.

If you want to donate, participate or join RU4C, Noony can be preached at (918) 557-3428, or you can go online: www.ru4c.org, but their Facebook page is the best place for more, just do a search for RU4C on Facebook.

Congratulations to Big Jim and Mama Bear Reitz.
It is always better the second time around!

Pause for PAAS Poker Run and help those who can't speak up

It's really sad that there are so many animals that have no homes, food or people to love, because that's all most dogs and cats want (well, no one knows what cats want). It's made worse when we have shelters overflowing with animals and animal control agencies are restricted in where they can go by geography or budgetary cuts, but there are people who go out and gather up abandoned cats and dogs, clean them, feed them and they transport them to states like Colorado where the need for pets exceeds the number of pets available for adoption. These same people also go in to places where disaster has occurred (like Katrina), and they help the pets left behind. They also spay and neuter and offer pet training to control pet abandonment in the future.

All of this costs money; money that government agencies don't contribute much to, so it is truly a labor of love. And Peaceful Animal Adoption Shelter (PAAS), a local group leading the charge to help local dogs and cats find new homes, is hosting a Poker Run on Oct. 1 to help Oklahoma's homeless furry friends.

The Run starts at 9 a.m. at the PAAS store in Vinita (last bike out at 11 a.m.), they have three card stops with last stop at the Road Hog Saloon in Afton. But it doesn't end there; they will have an auction and live music so you can make a day of it. Hanging out listening to good music while you enjoy the cooler temps with good friends and a beer has to be the best way to spend a day. Knowing you are doing something special to help local abandoned pets find new homes makes it even better. Payouts are $250 high hand and $100 for worst hand (which is plenty of kibble for that cute dog you'll be taking home from the shelter, hint, hint.)

PAAS has lots of info on their Facebook or Website page (www.paasvinita.com) and you can call them at (918) 256-7227 if you have questions (or if you want to adopt a pet). The PAAS Shelter is located on 628 Wilson Street in Vinita and they are always accepting donations. They are a 501c3 organization, so your contribution can be tax deductible.

Be sure to check out their blog on their website; the stories will get you a bit misty eyed.

Patchwork Pup reopening September 17, under OLD Management

As many know, Glenda started Patchwork Pup in 2000 and owned it for many years. She always took a lot of care with every item that came into her shop and made sure that the right items went home with the right customer (or were sent out in the mail). She knows that you are only as good as your word in this world, so she took a lot of pride in every job that she did.

In October, 2013, she thought it might be time for a break, so she sold Patchwork, but she needed Patchwork Pup as much as the Pup needed her, so she came back in June, 2014. Recently, the need to have a leather goods store with ready to wear items for men and women became obvious, so Glenda again was on the move looking for a bigger spot for retail space and specialty work.

The new shop, located off Hwy 20 between Pryor and Claremore is a 40x60 building with lots of showroom space, along with a backroom where her team can do direct garment printing, attach bling and do custom vinyl cutting, along with the embroidery and sewing she always did. She also has a waiting room for those who prefer to wait for their custom work to be done, complete with coffee and TV.

On Saturday, September 17, Glenda wants to christen the new shop with an Open House 10 a.m. – 10 p.m. and it's a big day. Bouncy houses and games for kids, hot dogs at noon, as well as a ceremony to honor firefighters, sheriffs and veterans at 2 p.m. are part of the festivities.

At 3 p.m., there will be a special ceremony for a 10-year-old little girl born with half a heart. She had three surgeries before her first birthday, and she loves to ride on her daddy's bike. Glenda has made her a special vest that matches her daddy's bike colors. Get your camera phone out for pictures, the cuteness will be off the charts.

Dinner is served at 5 p.m. (free brisket!), then the band gets started at 6. The day will be all about relaxing, making friends, talking and having a good time. There will be free water and pop served all day and the beer will be served after 6 p.m.

There is no charge for anything, it's all about good karma for customers who have become family and stood by Glenda over the years. Come out, see (and smell) the new shop, fill your belly with good food and fill your heart with love and laughter. Glenda can be reached with questions at (918) 978-7578.

SHOW YOUR HAWG SOME LOVE LIKE YOU MEAN IT THIS OCTOBER

Yup, just like the name says, 'Hawgtoberfest' is a good old-fashioned reason to spice up your October biker-style without having to go far, spend too much money or leave your MC brothers behind. You can even pack light because it's happening right nearby in Sand Springs in Discoveryland just west of Tulsa proper on 41st Street in beautiful Sand Springs.

We caught up with Jen, who is one of the primary organizers and she gave us a bit of info that got our attention; first, you can do some serious partying October 7-9, you can have a few beers then plop your tired self at your camp site (because there's camping all weekend long), and they'll have plenty of live music, bike games, a poker run, and the OU/Texas game will be on the big screen. And that's just the beginning.

They'll also have beer, food and you can refresh your soul Sunday at church service before you go home to rest up before you get back to the real world. Doors open 3 p.m. Friday and it goes from there. Pets are welcome, but kids stay home (you must be 21 or older, please), vendors will have all kinds of goodies for sale and there will be food trucks selling some of the best grub you ever tasted. Don't know what it is about food truck fare, but one bite and you'll be hooked too.

Jen tells us that she has some good stuff planned but she wants to keep some of it a surprise. We're kinda hoping that as the date gets closer she'll give us some secrets, so check in with oklahomabiker.net. As soon as we know, you will too. Until then, you can call Jen at (918) 552-1056 to make reservations or ask questions. We look forward to seeing the new Discoveryland playground for grown-ups and we invite you to check it out too.

CHERYL'S BIRTHDAY BASH

RYDER'S ARMY TOY RUN

OLD SCHOOL SMOKERS COMPETITION

HELPING FAMILIES WITH CHILDREN BATTLING CANCER

This year's event started with many hurdles that we had to overcome. Three weeks before the event we were told we would have to find a new location. That meant we would also have to purchase additional event insurance, and rethink all of the logistics for the event. Thankfully, the City of Skiatook permitted us to have the event in one of their parks, and it looks like we have found a permanent home for the event, with plenty of room for future growth.

If you are a fan of the Classic Rock Band BOSTON you would have loved the performance by three of their former members including lead singer Fran Cosmo. Inflating the hot air balloon just prior to them taking the stage was a special treat. The remainder of our band lineup was exceptional as well. People are still telling me how much they enjoyed the music. Barney Simmons and Chad Varnell thanks for making the music so successful! I want to also thank Bobby for the fireworks display that lasted for almost an hour. You did an incredible job!

BBQ was the main cuisine at this year's event with twenty-four teams competing for cash and trophies. The Old School Smokers hosted a People's Choice competition that provided more food than one could eat in a whole day. This event doubled in size from last year. It looks as if it will continue to grow.

This event could not happen without all of our volunteers and sponsors. We wish to thank each and everyone of you for your help. I am sure I have forgotten someone, so please forgive me in advance. Thank you all for helping us help families with children battling cancer.

If You Don't Fit In - Stand Out

Have you ever felt like a square peg in around hole? Sometimes a person can feel like they do not fit in anywhere they are trying to squeeze. Sometimes it is because that someone is trying to squeeze into the wrong fit. I recently read a book, and took the accompanying test, called StrengthsFinder. This is all about testing and finding where you most excel and putting your energy into that area.

Some people (myself included) can have the tendency to try and compare themselves to others. Some may also see something they love and think of pursuing it as a career when they have no discernable gifts in that field. For example; I love professional football but if I were to try and play in the NFL I would be dead – probably in the first three seconds. Also, sometimes we are pressured into doing something because someone else thinks we need to or would be good at. No one knows you like God does. He created you with a purpose and when you find that purpose, life starts to feel complete. So instead of trying to fit into a round whole when you are a square peg (or maybe even a Motorsickle shaped peg) find what God has created you for. And remember, if you feel like you do not fit in – it is time to stand out. Something to think about in the wind.

BIKERS BACKING THE BLUE

Olympic-ly Speaking

Well, well, well! From the look of the replies and fan mail that I got after the last article, that I may have struck a nerve with a certain element of the motorcycle community! Keep the feedback coming, I love it when I read a reply and I can see the vein on your neck about to pop while you're typing on your keyboard and shouting unfriendly insults my way. (You're such a keyboard bad ass) And as the other side, glad to see that some of you agree with my observation of the clean and shiny new vests.

Look, it's real simple. Everyone starts with a new vest. As time goes on, the vest weathers, fades and as I like to say gains character. It's like respect and wisdom, you can't buy it, it takes time and you earn it. Don't try and push the issue, because no matter how hard you try, the ones that have been around will see right thru your story and BS. You can sew on whatever you want or whatever you think will help you NOT look like the new to the lifestyle type of guy or girl, but you're only fooling yourself (and maybe Bob from Accounting).

Anywho..... It's that most wonderful time of the year again, Trailer Week in South Dakota. I did a little research and found out this year wasn't as bad as years past for the idiots running over each other. Nope, just 94 recorded accidents in the Rapid City district and (a round of applause) only 3 Fatalities this year! That's 3 too many but beats the hell out of what they have had in the past. I also found out that the entertainment at the (Legendary) Buffalo Chip took a really strange turn. Who the hell would schedule Weird Al as Saturday night headliner?? What? Weren't the Monkees available? They had their usual bad ass line up of headliners going right up until Saturday night then BOOM, laid an egg! Way to go Buffalo Chip, you may want to rethink that one next year.

Don't forget we have our very own Regional Trailer Week, (Blues, Bikes and BBQ) coming up Sept 21-24 in Fayetteville, AR. I'm still working hard to see if we can't get a Best Trailer award put into the judging competition this year.

Speaking of judging, the Olympics are going on as I write this and a few things have come to my attention. How on God's green earth is Dressage an Olympic event? For those of you not familiar with this, Google this shit! As a matter of fact, why do they have any Equine events in the Olympics (I'm sure I just hit a nerve there too). I find it hard to believe they want to get rid of wrestling (one of the original Olympic sports) and keep this sissy assed, show pony crap! I always thought the Olympics were about human competition. Shit, let's get NASCAR set up in the next summer games.

I noticed this time at the Olympics the Press has had a field day with add on titles, Muslim American, African American, why has it come down to this. I guess it's not good press or headline grabbing if you just put that we (The Americans) kicked the shit out of everybody (again) in the pool today. Seems they just got to keep playing the race card, be it for good or bad. They had to make such a big deal out of the First medal, because it was won in a "Shooting" event. You know us Yankee's, there's a gun behind every blade of grass here. Speaking of guns and shooting, Kim Rhode just won her 6th medal in her 6th Olympic games, you didn't hear much on that. Way to go Kim!

And last but not least, for all you Liberal minded, everybody gets to play, we don't keep score kinda cry babies. I haven't yet seen a single participation medal given out at the 2016 games. I guess if you're not the best of the best that day, you don't get any hardware. You know, kind of like life itself.

That's all I got this time. Look me up on Facebook @ Tank (writer)

CELEBRATION OF LIFE

Davy "PH Thumper" Dyer was my friend. That doesn't make me special, it makes him special because of all of the people who called Davy their friend. Every time I seen Davy he embraced me and gave me words of encouragement...and he also professed his love for Jesus. Davy was an example of how Jesus can change your life after you have messed it up with addiction and prison. He was a good role model to many of us who have chosen the wrong paths in our lives. Thumper, I know today you are probably riding the skies with Tony G and Tony Mac, but we are missing you in our lives!
